"Alma Mater"

Alma Mater, wise and glorious,
Shrine of Light and home of Truth,
Over fate and trials victorious,
Crown-ed with eternal youth,
Boast of son and pride of daughter,
Loved by all who know thy lore,
Dear Old Adrian Alma Mater,
God be with thee evermore.

Fair among the great lakes founded,
Where the Raisin winds its way,
Campus fair with maples bounded,
Lends enchantment night and day.
Mid fair spot of all creation,
Wreathed in flowers and forest
cleared,
Stands thy vine-clad habitation,
By devoted talents reared.

Dear humble yet beloved halls,
Where drunk we from Pierian spring,
Thy mem'ry yet our heart enthalls,
And to thy mother love we cling,
Happy days of joy and laughter,
While we filled our knowledge store,
Dear Old Adrian, Alma Mater,
God be with thee evermore.

—Samuel E. Watters.

The Mound

Adrian College
1946

In the one hundred and first year of the college's history, we take pleasure in giving you the Mound—not a book about Adrian's history over the past century, nor its well founded plans on the horizon of the future, but simply a book about the people who make up our college and what they do, in this year 1946.

HAUGHTON KOST FOX (1872-1945)

A flowery tribute would not be appropriate for the memory of one of Adrian's greatest personalities. We want merely to say that we miss this kindly, courteous gentleman who, in his quiet way, played such an important part in this, our college, first as a student in the class of '95, then as professor and as dean for many years. With humble respect, we dedicate the 1946 Mound to the memory of Dean Fox, a friend of everyone and a Christian gentleman everywhere.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Readers of the MOUND:

Each generation of students stands on the shoulders of their predecessors. In the presentation of the activities of the year the MOUND gives us a faithful record.

This has been a year of fast moving events. With peace in Europe and peace in the Pacific we began to feel the impulse of new life at the Adrian Campus. Returning service people, men and women, increased activities, the return to MIAA competition in athletics and the imperative for new housing due to increased student enrollment are all insistent demands upon us this year. We rejoice in the increased activity and in the outlook for the future. May you enjoy with us the graphic portrayal of this year's life as presented faithfully by the editors of the MOUND.

Very sincerely,

Samuel J. Harrison, President.

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Yours Truly" followed by a flourish.

Although her victory song didn't produce results in that game, the words of the song are well worth keeping for use at future games.

The song, to the tune of George M. Cohan's "You're a Grand Old Flag," goes like this:
And you're right on the beam
And you're right on the school we You're the spirit of the the school we
Where love
Every fun and good fellowship reign
Every heart stands still
And we surely get a thrill
Just to see you get a thrill
We will sing and come out on the floor
Till our lungs give out
Just to spur you to win once more.

Miss Fox is a member of the Music Department. She received her Bachelor of Music degree from Adrian College. In addition, she has studied at the University of Michigan, Detroit Institute of Musical Art, and at Augustana College Conservatory at Rock Island, Illinois. Almost any day of the week you see children of all sizes heading toward Downs Hall for their piano lesson from Miss Fox. Miss Fox's father, the late Dr. H. K. Fox was a professor and dean of the college for many years.

Philip Gentile

Mr. Philip Gentile of Detroit is Vice-president in charge of public relations. "Phil" is a graduate of Wayne University and has his Master's Degree in Religious Education from Northwestern University. Among other things he has served as Director of Youth Activities at Central Church in Detroit. Phil is a favorite with everyone on campus.

Hope Lowry

Miss Lowry is head of the Modern Language department. She teaches Spanish, Latin, German and French. At the present time she is spending part of her time working on her doctor's degree at the University of Michigan. She is also sponsor of the German and Spanish clubs and Beta Pi Theta. Her hobby is pets, especially dogs and cats. Yes, she likes students, too.

Guy Luke

"Luke" the "boiler room general" is college engineer and electrician. He's been at the college for eighteen years. He isn't sleeping here, he just doesn't like flash bulbs. He is "father-confessor" for many of the gals, listening to their troubles and offering them advice which usually proves to be sound.

Guy Luke

Norman MacNaughton

Dr. MacNaughton is one of the favorite teachers with the students. He has charge of all the psychology and philosophy courses offered at Adrian. Many of his favorite expressions, such as "Think on these things," have become a part of the everyday life of his students. Dr. MacNaughton can be found six days a week at eight o'clock with his classes on third floor.

John E. Marvin

The editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate and instructor in Christian Journalism, Dr. Marvin is a good friend to those students who get to know him. He is usually just going someplace or already gone. He spends more time in his car or on a train than anywhere else, but he always manages to get back in time for his classes.

Viola C. Miller

Viola Connor Miller

The Registrar and Director of Placement at Adrian College is Mrs. Miller. She received her A.B. degree from Huntington College and her A.M. degree from the University of Michigan. Mrs. Miller has been especially busy this year with the increased enrollment but she still finds time to have friendly little chats with the students.

H. Myron Partridge

Myron Partridge

Prof. Partridge came in this semester to teach speech and English composition, and assist in counseling the men's sports. Previous to that he had been an officer in the U. S. Navy. A graduate of Adrian in '32, he had done adult educational and recreational work, U. of M. extension work, and high school teaching. He and Prof. Schuhle together led the college back into inter-collegiate sports this spring by directing the track team. Prof's home is in Blissfield.

Horace Paschal

Mr. Paschal has been at Adrian for six years. He is maintenance man for all the buildings. He and his family also live in Adrian. Their son Bob used to work in the College Press and was a freshman here last fall, but is now in the navy.

Miles L. Peelle

Prof. Peelle received his A.B. degree from Wilmington College and his M.A. degree from Haverford College. Though Prof. is very busy with his work as instructor of all the Biology courses he always has time for a word of advice and encouragement. The Sunday evening record concerts in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peelle are weekly highspots for music loving students. Prof. spends his spare time with his hobbies of bird banding and collecting.

Esther Johnson Pellowe

Serving as Dietician for the Co-op, Director of the Dormitories, and campus Nurse, Mrs. Pellowe is always kept busy. However, she always has time for a friendly chat with any of the students. Incidentally, one of the lasting memories of pleasant things that many of the students leaving Adrian College take with them is the cheerful smile that is so much a part of Mrs. Pellowe.

Maisie Pierce

The college librarian, Miss Pierce is the authority for tough problems about almost anything. Her home is in Chicago. She came to Adrian in 1942 and lives in South Hall. She also teaches history and English as well as being librarian.

Homer K. Powell

Homer K. Powell

Although he's been emeritus professor for several years, popular Prof. Powell still keeps teaching. This versatile gentleman has taught geography, geometry, astronomy, physics, and practically everything else you can think of in his 30 years at Adrian. His favorite means of transportation is his faithful bike.

Bessie Richardson

Dr. Richardson is head of the English department. She teaches composition, literature, and drama. A new faculty member this year, she formerly taught at Huntingdon College. A graduate of Olivet College, with a Ph. D. from Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Richardson once spent a summer studying in Rome.

Corley S. Ritchie

Dr. Ritchie is business manager of the college. While he is the one who keeps all the students broke, therefore unhappy, he is loved by everyone for his patience and Christian character. Almost any hour of the day or night you'll find him in his office or behind the book counter looking after the business end of Adrian.

Dean W. A. Rush

Our friendly dean of students, whose office is as busy as Grand Central Station. Here he talks to Editor Donn Downall about this year's Mound. Or has he called him on the carpet? The dean tried his hand at teaching speech this year until a new professor arrived to fill the gap. Students who came in contact with him in this position said, as they always do, "He's okay!"

*Best wishes from
William Schuhle*

Leslie C. Sayre

Dr. Sayre is professor of religion. His experience as a missionary to the Belgian Congo plus his present occupation as pastor of the Addison Methodist charge, makes his well qualified for this position. Here we see him arriving from his home in Addison to start another day.

James Schroyer

The precise head of the Chemistry department wouldn't look up at the camera. He was doing something very technical, he said, and it wouldn't look accurate for him to take his eyes from it. He is well known to all students for his mania for mimeographing, his terrific tests, and his good humor. He wakes up at six in the morning because two year old Freddie has decided that that was the time to get up.

William Schuhle

"Professor Bill," he of the Louisiana drawl, sly humor, and artistic talents, came to Adrian last fall to teach history and economics. He brought with him his new bride, Mary, who finished her senior year here. He coached the track team for the fellows this spring, and is quite a track star himself, being a one-time Olympic finalist.

James Spencer

"The Doc" is head of the music department. He is widely known as a songwriter, composer and organist. Loved for his gayety and informality, when he is in charge of chapel there is sure to be a large attendance. Every Sunday morning you'll see him heading for Toledo to play the organ in one of the big churches there.

Cornelia Spencer

Mrs. Spencer is instructor of voice in the Music Department. The wife of Dr. Spencer, she has a busy life with her teaching and home life. She also does a fine job of vocalizing in her own right, but gets that gleam of pride in her eye only when one of her students has come thru okay.

S. L. St. Clair

"Saint" is the college construction director and the best handy man we've ever seen. He teaches the fellows and girls who work on his construction crew to swing a hammer, a paintbrush, work on a drafting board, or build anything buildable. Since he's been here, the campus has been having its "face lifted." The library, the dining hall, and now the chapel, owe their attractive appearance to him.

Mrs. Lynn Stuky

One of the familiar faces in the business office, Mrs. Stuky is on the college staff doing secretarial work. She lives in Adrian, but her original home is the Hoosier state.

Mildred Sweet

Our Dean of Women, Miss Sweet came to Adrian last September from Ann Arbor where she was director of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Michigan. Her home is in Peoria, Illinois. An ordained deaconess of the Methodist church, Dean Sweet is campus director of religious activities as well as being professor of sociology.

*Freezing
Mildred Sweet*

Estelle Tandy

Miss Estelle Tandy, our quiet Home Economics professor is a native of St. Louis, Missouri. She received her M.A. degree at Columbia University in New York City and her B.S. degree at the University of Missouri. She teaches cooking, sewing, and art courses.

Robert Tuttle

"Bob" is a very busy man. He is the head of the college's print shop, teaches journalism, supervises the WORLD, is editor of FELLOWS, and is president of Adrian's Junior Chamber of Commerce. The father of two small children, he is keenly interested in keeping track of the older one.

Helen M. Wernimont

Miss Wernimont is the director of the Secretarial Staff and instructor in Commercial Science. She is the "mecca" for all the WORLD reporters seeking news. This year she is trying to beg, borrow or hook enough money to furnish the Commercial room with modern equipment.

Howard H. Western

The executive secretary of Town and Country work for Michigan Methodism, Mr. Western has his office in North Hall and teaches courses in rural sociology and religion. He's also sponsor of Major Cole and "converts" most of the student ministers to his pet belief—the need for and the future of the rural church.

Joan Young

That young woman that hurries around campus is not a student but a sure enough teacher. Miss Young is head of the Women's Athletic Department. Her main goal in life is turning out winning teams and this year was very successful. She's also a very capable artist, as many college posters will verify.

*Here's wishing you the best. And here's hoping you'll be with us
next year with M.F.A.*

STUDENT COUNCIL

The group in charge of student government is pictured here. It is composed of one representative from each of the classes and the officers of Student Union, elected annually by the entire student body. The popular Student Union president this year is Franklin Wade.

These are the officers of C.C.F., the campus-wide religious organization which sponsors Sunday night worship programs social action projects and many social and recreational events. Grace Niemann has been president for the past year. These officers, together with the officers of Major Cole and Alpha Delta Chi, are the student representatives to the Campus Religious Council.

COLLEGE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

MAJOR COLE

The Major Cole Association is a group of men interested in the ministry or other full time Christian service. Every Thursday night they all eat supper together and then come over here to the Major Cole Chapel in Downs Hall for a discussion, which usually centers on the problems the boys face in their churches. They take their name from Major James H. Cole, a famous Adrian evangelist of a generation ago. The president of the group this year was Virgil Hahn. Prof. Howard Western is their sponsor and "D.S."

Here on the chapel steps we find the Alpha Delta Chi girls. This club is composed of girls who plan careers as missionaries or social workers. Jean Horton was the president of the group this year. They usually meet in the home of their sponsor, "Aunt Myrtle" Harrison, and take part in many constructive service projects.

ALPHA DELTA CHI

WOMAN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

These rugged individuals are the gals who vie for letters in girls sports, sell refreshments at college functions, and get up at five o'clock on a snowy winter's morning to eat an outdoor breakfast down in the park. With Coach loan Young to sponsor them and peppy "Edie" Buffet as their president, it's no wonder they have an abundance of vim, vigor, and vitality.

We have many fellows, and one girl, who served their country during the war. They have formed the Veterans Organization of Adrian College to meet the needs of the ex-service students on campus. It's our newest organization and we haven't seen much of it as yet, but they have a fine group of officers and members and ought to accomplish big things. The Vets' president is Dale Hostetler.

VETERAN'S ORGANIZATION

ALPHA TAU OMEGA

The ATO frat rooms are located downtown on North Main Street. They have been the scene of many enjoyable "open houses" as well as the regular Monday night meetings of the boys. Worthy Master of Alpha Tau Omega for this year has been Duncan Paterson. ATO pins, shaped like maltese crosses, seem to be worn more often by lucky girls than by the original owners.

Adrian's oldest "frat" has a cute little fraternity house across the street from the campus. It is the scene of "Sig" meetings every Monday night. The Eminent Archon of the SAE's this year was Don Pellowe. Cub Powers was "pres" of the large pledge group.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF COMMONS CLUBS

A. C. C., a men's social fraternity reorganized this year after lapsing into a brief inactive spell during the war. Herb Brown is president of the group. Their clubrooms, equipped with pool table and recreation equipment, are located in the home of their "mom," Mrs. Julia Cairns at 1129 College Avenue.

Our social sorority was organized last fall by a group of girls who felt the need for such a group. It is strictly local in character. During its first year it added many new members and pledges and carried on a full social program for the girls. Ellen Sytert was the first president of CPO. Their May-Pole dance in Metcalf Hall was one of the highlights of the year's social life.

CHI PSI OMEGA

GERMAN CLUB

Do you speak German? If you do, you probably belong to the German Club. The "gang" pictured here has a great time in its meetings doing dramatizations of the apple scene from William Tell, etc. Miss Hope Lowry and Mrs. Ferdinand Anderson, the German instructors, are seen here with some of the student members. "Jake" Wade was president of the club this year.

People who can't pronounce it call it the Spanish Club, and it is composed of the Spanish speaking students and their instructor, Miss Hope Lowry. They've had an enjoyable time at their meetings during the past year, singing Spanish songs, and listening to guests like Rev. John Emig of the Presbyterian church, who was a former missionary in Colombia. Doris Miller has been president this year.

LA SOCIEDAD HISPANICA

BETA PI THETA

The college's French language society meets once a month, with a tea or a supper meeting. Mabel Wright is now president of the group. Besides the students pictured here with the French instructors, Miss Lowry and Mrs. Bailey, several school teachers and other French speaking residents of the town are members. Members must have two years of college French with a "B" average to join the group.

Under Prof. William Schuhle's expert guidance, this group of students takes the world apart and put it back together again every two weeks. Some of the seniors do extra research and get credit for this course. Other students do it purely for the love of current events—not to mention honor points. The group is representative of one of Adrian's finest traits a keen interest in what's going on in the world.
